“ I am so sorry I wasn't able to make it to alisha's funeral. Alisha was one of the biggest influences in my life. I always thought she was beautiful, kind hearted, funny, quick witted, and just all around amazing. We was best friends for a very long time when we was younger then I lost touch with her. Around 6 or 7 years ago we reconnected and I was amazed that she was still as amazing as she was when we were in our teens. God definitely has the greatest angel with him now because she was about as close to perfect as you can get. My heart hurts knowing she is gone. Love and prayers to all of her family.

“ There is not enough room on this page to write down all our memories together. How can you write down 30 or more years of memories You were with me the first time I had a wreck, I drove you to school on Ashley's first day of kindergarten, I held your hand when you cried, and you held mine when I got married. We have laughed so many times and so hard we both cried. My heart will never be the same it's broken that only you could repair. I love you so much and my peace is knowing we will meet again someday. You are now with Mary Kay, and Elizabeth Arden maybe you can give them some pointers!!

“ Where to start I will never forget the day we met 21 yrs ago! Ken and I had just moved to the neighborhood and we had a freak snow storms that left 2 foot of snow in NC! I was going to the store and if remember correctly we were the only ones in the neighborhood that had a 4 wheel drive! I picked you & Jacob up to go to the store and from that time on we laughed, we cried we did some crazy things and raised a good bunch of children! When you moved back to Ohio it broke my heart but I know you were happy and have finally found your forever happiness! You will never ever be replaced and there will never be another Alisha! You have a beautiful family and all of those grandchildren that love you dearly and will always remember mame! My thoughts and prayers are with your family! Ashley, Justin & Jacob know that I will always be reachable if y'all ever need something! I Love all of you dearly!!
