“ Tim was one of those people that you remember forever. He was one of 13 guys in the Lawrence County Joint Vocational School Electronics class of 1980. There was never a dull moment with Tim around. He was full of antics and a natural entertainer. I remember he used to cut the locks off of other people's tool boxes, used to blow up diodes with a power supply so they'd make a loud bang, and was a general goof-ball, regularly instigating other such mischief. Of course he'd always run over to another area and play innocent. Over the years it has always made me chuckle and brought a big smile to my face when I think of Tim - and it always will. My condolences to all who knew and loved Tim.
